Eons before, when the elders were still children, the fabled land of Baljing was home to a cheerful and trusting race. The Baljing people were generous and looked after each other throughout their lives. Everyone prospered, and hunger and homelessness were unknown. The great Dragon Spirit that protected and nurtured this land was so pleased with this enlightened attitude that it presented them with a splendid dragon statue for their town square. The word of the wondrous statue, and rumors of its magical properties, spread to other kingdoms; and its fame soon established it as the very symbol of Baljing.

Now to the north of Baljing, high atop Mount Gia, there lived an envious and malicious warlock named Zabboong. And it came to pass that Zabboong was jealous of the thriving community, since he governed only the monsters and worthless wretches who inhabited Mount Gia and its surrounding area. Nothing but evil reigned in Zabboong’s domain.

Spurred on by his jealous hatred and malevolent passion, Zabboong and his monstrous armies attacked Baljing and set the city ablaze. Many lives were lost and the land was left in ruin. All hope was gone, and despair settled upon the inhabitants of Baljing. Enraged by Zabboong’s attack, the Dragon Spirit filled the skies with dark and foreboding storm clouds.

Through the thick, black clouds, the Dragon Spirit sent a gigantic lightning bolt to strike the legendary statue in the town square. Wondrously, the statue was transformed into a great warrior who began to strike back at Zabboong’s murderous hordes. In response, the warlock’s armies retreated fearfully back to Mt. Gia with the warrior in hot pursuit, determined to vanquish all its evil forces. YOU are that valiant warrior, and your mission is to defeat Zabboong’s sinister crew, stop his reign of terror, and return Baljing to the protection of the great Dragon Spirit.

This is a “scroll right” action game. Make your way through the enemies and obstacles to the guardian or stage boss at the right end of the stage. There are two meters to indicate your status.

POWER/LIFE METER
The Power/Life meter shows your health and life force. Damage is shown by a decrease on this meter. When the meter drops to Zero, you will lose one life.

METAMORPH METER
This meter indicates your ability to change into a FLYING DRAGON! As you defeat enemies, you will increase the level on this meter. When the level is above half, press UP and A to change into a dragon.

ENEMIES

YOUR CHARACTER

ITEMS

Some enemies will give you special items when you defeat them. These items will come in handy during your perilous journey.
How TO PLAY

There are six stages filled with enemies and obstacles. The exit to each stage is guarded by a powerful guardian or boss. Defeat each boss to fill and increase the size of your Power/Life meter, and advance to the next stage.

CONTINUE

Due to the magic lightning, the Dragon Fighter has three lives! After you lose a life, you may continue from the beginning of the stage in which you lost the life. You will have three CONTINUES.

Press START at the title screen.

When the Power/Life meter drops to Zero, you are defeated and lose a life.

Your Character

As the fighter you are a powerful gladiator embodied with the essence of the Dragon Spirit. You may obtain three special powers which are derived from the natural elements. In your normal state, you can run, jump, and attack.

RUN
Press the control pad left or right to move in that direction. Press DOWN to squat.

JUMP
Press A to jump. You can attack as you jump.

ATTACK
Press the B button to swing your sword. You can attack while squatting.
YOUR CHARACTER

FIGHTER POWER UP

If you obtain a G (Green), R (Red), or B (Blue) icon, you will receive one of the fighter's three special powers (as indicated by the given icon.)

HOW TO SHOOT BOMBS

Hold B down until the fighter flashes. While flashing, release B to shoot the bomb.

DRAGON

The dragon is the fighter's alter-ego. When you change into the dragon, you can fly and shoot a spread of fireballs with your "flame breath." Like the fighter, the dragon can obtain three special powers.

METAMORPHOSIS:

HOW TO CHANGE INTO THE DRAGON

When the metamorph meter is more than half full, press A and UP to change from a fighter into a fierce dragon.

FLY

Move the dragon with the control pad. As the dragon, you can fly backward (LEFT), but cannot turn around.

ATTACK

Press B to breathe out a spread of fireballs!
YOUR CHARACTER

DRAGON POWER UP

Like the fighter, if the dragon obtains the G, R, or B icon, it will automatically be enhanced with certain powers.

DRAGONS

G - Naginata: Grabs the fighter to increase the angle of the fireball spread.
R - Rake: Drops a fireball on the ground and sets fire, consuming enemies.
B - Bonsai: The Bijin with the 3 hands starts birching its hands, which seek out the enemy.

STAGES

There are six very different and very dangerous stages that represent Mount Giao and the surrounding area.

Each is filled with monstrous inhabitants who have orders to stop the courageous Dragon Fighter. Defeat the enemies and the guardians that preside over each stage to engage Zabbaqon in a final battle.

STAGE 1
Stage 1 is the area of snow-covered ground at the foot of Mount Giao. It is protected by the soldiers at the lower region known as the “Dark platforms.” Though they are fairly bright in color, these notions are quite eerie and dark souls. Zabbaqon has placed the terrible “14 in Charge” of this area.

STAGE 2
This is the Cave of No Return: a giant cavity of danger set deep within the mountain and infected with monstrous poisonous creatures that the inhabitants of the 14th Century has mutated by the strange grass which grows in abundance within the cave. The exit to this cave is guarded by the Giant Centipede which is responsible for the cave’s fame.

STAGE 3
The exit of the cave leads to this treacherous area filled with perilous waterfalls and many creatures of the deep. Movement will be difficult due to the treacherous currents of water that wind their way throughout this stage. However, they do not compare to the danger of the “Fire-breathing Water Serpent” known as the Hydra-Hydra, which is stationed at the exit.
This stage is Zabesong’s laboratory and factory where he invents devices and creatures of metal. This is one of Zabesong’s favorite areas since these uncomplaining robot minions are programmed to follow orders without fail and their tough steel bodies make them especially formidable. Guarding the exit at the end of this stage is the near-invincible Robot Generator.

This last stage is the area that surrounds the top of Mount Gla. Here the air is thin and populated by a horde of ferocious flying creatures. You will only be able to negotiate this stage as a dragon, which you automatically become upon entering. Hence, this stage also becomes a test of strategy and flying ability. But the real test will come at the end where you will meet Zabesong himself!

ITEMS

When you defeat them, some enemies will provide you with items which will aid you in one of three ways: recovery, attack or metamorphosis. Generally, these items will appear on the ground.

- Power Pearl: Increases the Power Life meter by 2.
- Power Pot: Increases the Power Life meter by 6.
- Ring of Wrath: Destroys all enemies on screen.
- Dragonweed: A mysterious flower shaped like a dragon’s head. Increases Metamorph meter by 6.
- GREEN: Changes you to green fighter or dragon with G power.
- RED: Changes you to red fighter or dragon with R power.
- BLUE: Changes you to blue fighter or dragon with B power.
- STAFF OF STRENGTH: Obtain this item when you defeat a stage guardian or boss. It will increase the size of your Power Life meter and fill it.
ENEMIES

This journey is fraught with danger and daring. There is a myriad of monsters lying in wait, ever ready to attack and put an end to your quest.

GIANT CENTIPEDE

Though it is able to fly, it seems that it's most deadly when it burrows out of sight to come up for a sneak attack.

WOLF-LORD

His powerful legs enable him to jump very high. He is most vulnerable to attack when he lands to generate more wolves.

HYDRO-HYDRA

With four of its heads, each with fireballs, you must destroy the Heads to defeat this monster.

ROBOT GENERATOR

This durable apparatus creates the robots that populate the stage, especially near the exit. Its thick metal casing makes it a tough nemesis.

The DISCORPREAL SKELETON

Bits and pieces of Undead are held together by a ghostly spirit. The enemy's weakness is in its head, which is surrounded by a shield of ice.

ZABBAONG

No one knows what the wicked combo looks like, because no one who has ventured there ever lived to tell the tale. At this point, you are on your own. Good luck and may the Dragon Spirit guide you.
